THE CHANGES TIME WILL BRING ABOUT

Among Meyer's First Acts Was Revocation of Newberry's Orders

It is certainly wonderful what time brings about for changes.

In the last days of Secretary Newberry as the navy head, one of his concluding official acts was to cause the issue of orders which meant the practical abandonment of two of the southern yards.

The present secretary had hardly taken the reins in hand when one of his first moves was to revoke the orders of his predecessor and head off the closing of New Orleans and Pensacola stations.

Again there is a change of mind and not only does he want these two yards closed, but he would do away with the best stations on the coast outside of the naval posts of Florida and Louisiana.

This idea of the secretary is puzzling when it is considered that he has knowledge of the conditions at Mare Island and is well aware of the fact that it will cost the government $1,000,000 to make the waters leading to the California yard navigable for large ships. Besides this amount for a start $70,000 will be necessary yearly to maintain the approach.

Such conditions as these would justify the abandonment of the Mare Island yard instead of either League Island or Portsmouth, especially Portsmouth where not a cent has been spent in digging out mud in the history of the yard, other than that made necessary by the construction of quay wall and docks.

WANT SUITABLE BURIAL FOR JOHN PAUL JONES

Club Perpetuating His Memory Protests at Inaction of Authorities

Deploring the delay in the burial of the body of John Paul Jones, the historical society formed to perpetuate his memory has voted to urge the New Hampshire congressional delegation to cause the enactment into law of a bill which will provide for burial in the crypt of the Annapolis, Md, chapel.

The John Paul Jones club adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, the body of John Paul Jones has for five years remained in a storage room at the new chapel at Annapolis without suitable or even decent sepulcher, and

"Whereas, such continued neglect is a national disgrace, be it

"Resolved, That the secretary be and is hereby instructed to urgently request the several members of the New Hampshire delegation to congress to take the necessary steps looking toward the enactment into law of the bill now before congress which provides for burial in the crypt of the chapel."

Secretary George A. Wood said Gen. Horace Porter, a member of the club, has informed him that the body is beneath a stairway in an unused and isolated section of a cellar

As a matter of fact, however, the body is in Bancroft Hall, occupied as quarters by the midshipmen at the naval academy. Though in less appropriate surroundings than represented, better disposition of the hero's remains should doubtless be made.

It is desired to have it interred in the new chapel at the naval academy.

Dr. Eugene B. Eastman has been elected president of the club for the ensuing year. The officers were elected: Vice President, John Scales of Dover; secretary, George A. Wood; treasurer, John K. Bates; chaplain, William H. Smith; auditor, Dr. William O. Junkins; historian, Oliver P. Remick of Kittery Depot; board of managers, Dr. Fred S. Towle, William L. Hill, C. E. Hodgdon, William A. Hodgdon, George D. Whittier, Dr. H. I. Durgin of South Eliot and Frank T. Clarkson of Kittery oPint.

CHALK RING CHAIRS

Maybe this is a fable, but you'll agree it might be true.

A traveling salesman told us once that he knew a merchant who had a big chalk ring in the rear of his store. Whenever a salesman came in to sell him chairs he took him back to this ring, seized his photographs and threw them high in the air over the chalk ring. He bought the chairs whose photographs fell in the ring.

Some men use the same plan without even providing a ring—but it's hard on the customers. On our chair floor there are nearly two hundred different chairs. We compared perhaps ten thousand different designs before the selection was made. That's why our chair floor is interesting. The designs are right—and the prices too.

MAJOR LEONARD WILL STAY AT NAVAL PRISON

The Expected Orders of a Relief Are Not To Materialize

It will be good news to the public in general to learn that Major Harry Leonard, U. S. N., who has so efficiently acted as commandant of the naval prison for the past two years, is to continue here indefinitely.

Major Leonard has made a reputation in connection with his duties here which redounds to his credit throughout the service.

The conduct of the naval prison and the thoroughness of the work under his command shows that efficiency which the government does not fail to recognize.

This news shows that the expected orders relieving Major Leonard and sending Capt. C. B. Hatch here as his successor are no longer under contemplation.

TRIES TO RUN THE TRAIN

Noisy Passenger is Rewarded by a Walk From Dover Point

A drunk, who boarded the 5.20 p. m. train for Dover on Wednesday with the intention of running things, especially in the smoking car, learned that the railroad paid a man to handle the trips and that Conductor Hobbs was in charge of the trains between this city and Dover. A walk from Dover Point back to Portsmouth took all the fight out of him and the next time he boards that train he will be wise enough to understand that the crew can take care of fresh jinks as well as peaceable passengers.

At a meeting of Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., held on Wednesday evening, it was decided that the organization as a body could not turn out to attend the Republican rally on Friday evening owing to the by-laws of the post which does not allow it to participate in any political gatherings as the G. A. R. However the members are to attend in large numbers individually to greet Congressman Sulloway on this occasion.

IT'S QUITE A RECORD

Woodbury Avenue Farmer Beats Them Out on Apples

Charles Lamprey of Woodbury avenue appears to have the record in apple picking. From forty-one trees in his orchard he gathered 41 barrels of handsome Baldwins. The trees from which the fruit was picked had for the past eight or ten years borne nothing in the form of apples and were part of a large orchard which he saved inclearing away many other trees.

The Rev. William P. Stanley and Mrs. Stanley received the members of the Middle street Baptist church on Wednesday evening in the parsonage. Members of the Girls' guild assisted at the parsonage, and the presidents and vice presidents of the church societies poured.

CLARK'S BODY TAKEN TO DOVER

Wife Whom He Tried To Kill In Critical Condition

The body of George W. Clark, who committed suicide at his home in Sanbornville Wednesday by blowing his head nearly off with a shotgun after seriously assaulting his sick wife, was brought to Dover Wednesday evening by his two brothers, Orrin R. and William R. Clark of Dover, and Frank Clark, the 20 year old son of the dead man. After being prepared for burial it was taken to the home of John F. Creamer, a brother in law, on Park street.

Mrs. Clark is in a critical condition. Her face is black and blue and her body is marked from head to foot. She is hurt internally and complains of pains all over her. She is at the home of Clark's sister, Mrs. S. L. Shortridge, at Brookfield.

Clark was 42 years old and the son of the late George W. Clark of Dover. He left for Sanbornville 15 years ago and had been employed as a wiper in the Boston and Maine roundhouse there.

His wife before her marriage was Miss Lizzie Tibbetts of Dover. Beside her he is survived by one son, Frnak, three brothers, William R., Orrin R. and Charles H. Clark of this city, and three sisters, Mrs. Shortridge at Brookfield, Mrs. J. F. Creamer and Mrs. George H. Dyer of Dover.

Election betting is not very lively here.

MANY BENEFITED BY GRANT'S WILL

Thirty Five Thousand Dollar Estate Divided

The will of the late John Grant of this city, admitted to probate at Exeter, involves a large sum of money, the real estate being estimated at $17,000 real property, and $18,000 personal.

The estate was interestingly divided up by his directing that $200 of it be set aside as a permanent fund for the care of his burial lot; a nephew, LeRoy Grant of Boston, is to have a third of the residue, while the other two-thirds are proportioned as follows:

One-fifth to a brother Charles of Haverhill, Mass., and another brother, Daniel W. of Portsmouth; three sisters are to receive onesixth, while the residue goes to the Ports-mouth Home for Indigent Women.

County Solicitor Charles H. Batchelder of this city is named as executor.

CLAIMED THAT CARR ENDORSED REPUBLICAN BILL

Senator Bass Welcomes Such Endorsement

MAKES VERY STRONG SPEECH

Republicans Give Him Big Ovation at Nashua.

Candidate Bass at Nashua Wednesday evening was greeted by a big crowd and he was given a great ovation.

In his address he said in part:

"I am glad that Mr. Carr has at last come out squarely and declared himself in favor of the recommendations of our Republican tax commission concerning the method of assessing the valuation of the public service corporations. These recommendations were embodied in a bill by Mr. Wyman, a Republican, and Mr. Carr has endorsed the bill. I have been calling upon him in many speeches and through the press to take a definite stand on this matter for many reasons. First, because I feared that he might be on the other side of the fence. When I attacked the four Democratic senators of the last senate for voting against the Wyman bill, Mr. Carr in a speech at Claremont defended their action on the ground that a great legal authority had declared the measure unconstitutional and further Mr. Carr in a speech at Nashua reinforced my view that he was opposed to the Wyman bill by quoting Mr. Lyford on the dangers of passing the taxation legislation before its constitutionality had been definitely established. As the only measure on taxation in dispute between Mr. Carr and myself was the recommendations of the tax commission embodied in the Wyman bill, I felt justified in believing that Mr. Carr might oppose such legislation on the ground of unconstitutionality. I had further reason to be in doubt about the position of the Democratic party on this most important issue. The Democratic platform committed no candidate to the four Democratic members of the definite action on this question. Of judiciary committee which refused to report the Wyman bill, three of them voted against the majority of the Republican members of that committee and thereby prevented the committee from reporting the bill. All the Democratic senators voted against the bill in the senate and a number of the Democrats who opposed the bill both in the senate and the house are now candidates for the senate.

All these things led me to urge Mr. Carr to take some definite stand on the question. He has done so. I welcome him to the Republican party. He must logically stand with us on this issue because he has not the support of his own party on it as the Democratic platform gives no assurance that candidates if elected will vote for the Wyman bill. I hope that Mr. Carr having taken one step will not hesitate to take a second, that having endorsed the Republican platform on taxation he will declare himself in favor of such legislative and executive action as may be necessary to enforce the findings of the railroad commission reducing express rates. Immediate action on this matter is of the utmost importance to every merchant and to every consumer in the state because these exorbitant express rates materially increase the cost of living. They also tend to decrease production. A man who ships 36 baskets of peaches by express to market and receives $10.80 in payment and has to pay $10.07 to the express company, leaving him a profit of 73 cents, is not going to bother about shipping his peach crop the following year. I therefore wish to urge Mr. Carr as I have urged him many times before, in this campaign, to come out frankly and state whether he believes that the findings of the railroad commission that the present express rates are extortionate, is correct and whether he will use his influence to see that these express rates are reduced according to the findings of the railroad commission. I hope that Mr. Carr will do this, but more than that and of greater importance is that he should pledge the candidates of his own party not only to support of the Wyman bill, but to the support of the plank of the Republican platform requiring the enforcement of the findings of the railroad commission reducing express rates. The democratic candidates for the house and the senate, if they are elected, will have to vote on these measures and the Democratic platform gives no indication as to how they will vote. The time is short, but I think that Mr. Carr ought to devote it to securing these pledges from Democratic candidates if he is to be sincere in his advocacy of these measures. Yesterday Mr. Carr asked me certain questions, one of which I am glad to answer tonight.

He asked, when and where, previous to February, 1909, did you say a word or lend a hand in favor of equalization of valuation between property in general and public service corporations?

In September of 1908 I worked with all the influence then at my command for the insertion into the Republican platform of all the progressive measures therein contained. I believe that that work was not without result. The platform as finally adopted concerning the valuation, said:

"Upon the report of the existing tax commission to review the tax laws of the state, we pledge our best efforts to procure legislation that will ensure a full and equitable valuation of the property within the state and its proportionate taxation in accordance with the principles here declared."

As the tax commission had not yet made its report when this platform was drafted the platform was not as definite as it would otherwise have been, and I wish to call Mr. Carr's attention to the fact that the result of this indefiniteness was the failure to secure adequate legislation. The Democratic platform of this year is even more indefinite on this same subject than was the Republican platform of two years ago and that is the reason I am urging Mr. Carr to get his party committed to some definite promises for action. After the platform was drafted I introduced into the committee a resolution calling for the pledge of all candidates of the party to that platform. This I believe to have been an effective measure because wherever the platform was definite and clear these pledges were found to bind practically all candidates to the legislature after they were elected.

Now this year's Republican platform in its preamble pledges all candidates to the very definite measures of the platform while the Democratic platform pledges its candidates to vague and meaningless generalities without a promise of definite action. In the fall of 1908 I made one or more speeches in which I vigorously advocated all the progressive planks of the Republican platform including that on tax valuation concerning public service corporations and individuals.

I have answered one question of Mr. Carr's without delay and I think before I answer any more questions of Mr. Carr's that I have a right to ask him to answer the other questions which I have been asking him for the last three weeks; namely, is he in favor of such legislative and executive action as will ensure enforcement of the findings of the railroad commission relative to the reduction of express rates.

There are times when it is necessary to raise the temperature quickly or to keep the temperature up for a long period. Graustark

While you may have read and liked George Barr McCutcheon's romantic story of love and adventure, "Graustark," it is impossible to get the thrills, the full significance of the intrigues, the action of adventure, the deep heart interest, and the setting of actuality that characterizes the stage version by actors with rich red blood in their veins. It remained for Messrs. Baker and Castle, the producers to provide the opportunity and they will bring "Graustark," here in the near future.

Philharmonic Society

The Philharmonic Society of New York, Gustav Mahler conductor, opened its 69th session Nov. 1 in the presence of an audience that packed Carnegie Hall to the roof. The program was unique opening with Mahler's own arrangement of the Bach Suite in which, while conducting the orchestra, he played the harpsichord. The Symphony was the Schubert C. major, of which Schuman spoke as the "Symphony of heavenly length." Mr. Mahler also presented his own arrangement of the Ballet Musik from "Idomeneo" and the Deutsche Tanze of Mozart. The program was brought to a dramatic close by a superb performance of Richard Strauss' "Also Sprach Zarathustra."

The Philharmonic Orchestra which numbers between 90 and 100 players, has now come under the management of Loudon Charlton, and its plans have been broadened to the extent of doubling the number of concerts played in New York. During the first 67 years of its existence the orchestra confined its appearances to the Metropolis. Last season it played half a dozen outside engagements, and this year it will be heard in about 20 cities. Next year it is proposed to broaden the plans still further, so that the organization will give from 100 to 150 concerts which may include a trans-continental tour. The greatest stars in America have been engaged as soloists fo this season's appearances, the list including: Mmes Gadski, Gluck, Schumann-Heink, Rider-Kelsey, Kirby-Lunn, Miss Maud Powell, and Messrs. Bispham, Clement, Hofmann, Scharwenka, Dethier, Macmillen, Spiering, Hutcheson, Hamlin, Schulz, Schmitt and others. In addition to being the oldest orchestra in the world its cost for its 23 week season being nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

DON'T STAY FAT

This is fashion's decree as well as the general verdict of humanity in general. Fatness is despised by every one—fat people most of all. You must be thin to be popular, attractive, comfortable or contented. How to accomplish this much desired end without danger to health or resulting wrinkles or flabbiness was an unanswered question until the discovery of the famous Marmola Prescription. Now that this method has proved to be absolutely harmless, and the same formula is put up in the form of Marmola Prescription Tablets, thousands of men and women are reducing to natural symmetry at the rate of a pound or more a day, and are in better health and spirits from the change. This method of reduction is no hardship on the smallest purse, as all druggists sell a large case of Marmola Prescription Tablets for 7c, or the Marmola Co., 978 Monroe Av., Detroit, Mich., will mail a full case for the same small amount.

SAYS CUBANS BLEW UP MAINE

Positive Statement Is Made by Colonel Brady

INVESTIGATED DISASTER

Former Army Officer Declares Mine Was Fired by Jose Zavaldo In Order to Bring on War With Spain and Deliverance of Gem of the Antilles—Man Who Threw Electric Switch Was Afterward Executed

Kansas City, Nov. 3.—Lecturing at St. George's church, Colonel Jaspar E. Brady, one of the four officers sent by the government to investigate the destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, Feb. 14, 1898, declared the mine which destroyed the battleship was placed by the Cubans in order to bring on war with Spain and the deliverance of Cuba. He further asserted that the information had been sent to the president and the secretary of war.

"When I went to investigate the disaster with three other United States officers," Brady said, "there were three theories concerning the origin of the disaster—that the explosion was caused from the outside by agents of Spain, that it was caused from the inside, and that the Maine was anchored over a mine prepared by the Cubans.

"We were able to informe the president and the secretary of war that the last theory was the most consistent with the facts. This leads to the conclusion that the Maine was blown up by the Cubans in order to bring on war with Spain and the deliverance of Cuba."

Continuing, he said: "Now I will tell you for the first time the name of the man who blew up the Maine. He is, or was, Jose Zavaldo. He was electrician at Morro Castle. It was he who threw the switch which set off the powerful mine that destroyed the ship and sent 207 lives into eternity in a flash. Zavaldo was afterward shot by order of General Blanco.

"We even got a piece of the cable that led from the mine to the room in Morro Castle. That piece of cable is now in the navy department at Washington."

Colonel Brady resigned from the army in 1899. Asked why the report given the president and the secretary of war had not been made public, he said: "Well, I'm sure I don't know."

Colonel Brady is a brother of Rev. Cyrus T. Brady, the author, who is pastor of St. George's church, where the lecture was delivered.

Wainwright Discredits Story

Washington, Nov. 3.—Rear Admiral Wainwright, who was executive officer on the Maine at the time the vessel was blown up, says that there was no military board appointed to investigate the disaster. The story told by Brady was one of the theories advanced at the time the naval board of inquiry, of which Wainwright was a member, investigated the matter. It was discredited then, and Wainwright says he places no stock in it now. He brands as untrue Brady's statement that a piece of the cable that led from the mine to a room in Morro Castle now is in the navy department. If there had been any such cable, he declares, it would have been discovered by the divers who examined the hull after the explosion.

AGREE TO ARBITRATE

Express Drivers Willing to Leave Case With Civic Federation

New York, Nov. 3.—The strike of the express companies' drivers and helpers neared a settlement when Mayor Gaynor announced that the strikers had agreed to arbitrate. The strikers informed the mayor that they were willing to leave their case in the hands of arbitrators to be selected by the conciliation committee of the National Civic Federation, and return to work and wait for the decision of the arbitrators until Dec. 1 or Jan. 1.

Mayor Gaynor held a conference with President Platt of the United States express company, on the strike situation. All that is needed to secure a settlement of the strike by arbitration is the consent of the employing companies.

RESIGNATIONS ARE HANDED IN

Division Among Members of the French Cabinet

BRIAND IS STILL LEADER

Asked by President Fallieres to Form New Ministry, Which He Will Do by Remodelling Old Cabinet—Chamber Had Approved His Actions In Vote of Confidence, but New Problems Have Arisen

Paris, Nov. 3.—The cabinet of Premier Briand, which succeeded the Clemenceau ministry on July 23, 1909, unexpectedly resigned in consequence of the bitter attacks made in the chamber of deputies upon the government's action in suppressing the recent railroad strike and a diversion among its members over its proposed legislation for the avoidance of similar crises in the future.

A strong Republican majority in the chamber voted confidence in the government, but at a meeting of the ministers dissensions developed and Briand announced that new and serious problems had grown out of the labor trouble that must be met by a united ministry. Accordingly he suggested the retirement of himself and associates.

President Fallieres has asked Briand to form a new cabinet and he has consented, and it is expected will remodel the retiring ministry in harmony with his views on a parliamentary program to meet crises resulting from strikes.

Briand, who is a Socialist, was forced to abandon office by the assaults of the Socialists, who declared that he had betrayed them.

The Socialists, who rejoiced when Briand was chosen as premier, branded him as a traitor to the party tenets for his work in crushing the recent strike. The interpellations of the Socialists, and the subsequent disorder in the chamber of deputies last week, were the final acts that caused the premier's resignation.

The cabinet which retired was made up as follows: Premier and minister of interior and public worship, Aristide Briand; war, General Brun; marine, Admiral Lapeyrere; justice, M. Barthou; foreign affairs, M. Pichon; finance, Georges Cochery; education, M. Doumergue; public posts and telegraphs, M. Millerand; commerce, M. Dupuy; agriculture, M. Ruau; colonies, M. Trouillot; labor, M. Viviana.

This cabinet was formed by Briand after a great deal of difficulty and was hailed at that time as "the great Socialist cabinet." Briand was the pivot on which the whole drama, ending in the cabinet's fall, turned.

It is probable that Ministers Pichon, Dupuy, Brun and Lapeyrere will be in the new cabinet. Ministers Millerand and Viviani dissented from Briand's program and their retirement is likely to be permanent. Millerand especially was dissatisfied, insisting that the principle of arbitration should be recognized more broadly by the government. Just what Briand's program of future legislation provided had not been made known to the public when the resignation of the cabinet was announced.

At the meeting at which Briand suggested the resignation he thanked his comrades for having stood together in the national crisis and shouldered unitedly the harsh attack in the chamber. He said that he had been violently accused and even charged with nourishing an ambition to throttle public liberty.

It was true that these attacks had been repudiated by a strong Republican majority, which voted confidence in the government, but nevertheless out of the railroad strike and out of the debate in the chamber, whose character was so exceedingly grave, new and serious problems had arisen which must be met by a united ministry. For this reason the premier suggested the retirement of the cabinet.

ERBSTEIN INDICTED

Charged With Corrupting Juror In the Lorimer Case

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Charles E. Erbstein, one of the attorneys for Lee O'Neil Browne, who was recently acquitted of a charge of bribing State Representative White to vote for William Lorimer for United States senator, was indicted, charged with corrupting a member of the jury which cleared Browne.

The juror in question, Grant McCutchen, and Henry T. Stacy, alleged go-between, according to the stories they told the state attorney, received $250, which they divided equally, for McCutchen's vote on the verdict. The first trial of Browne resulted in a disagreement.

Record Collection of Taxes

Boston, Nov. 3.—Boston's city collecting department this year has broken all records for tax collections. This year $24,248,721.13 in taxes had been collected by Nov. 1. This is nearly $750,000 more than the record made by the collecting department up to Nov. 1 last year.

Grand Army Commander Settles Question of Military Rank

Boston, Nov. 3.—Commander-In-Chief Gilman of the Grand Army of the Republic will in his forthcoming general orders emphasize his belief that "Comrade" is the highest title that can be given a member of the order, and he suggests that he himself should be addressed as "Comrade John E. Gilman, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic."

The question of military rank has disturbed G. A. R. veterans for years, particularly in the western posts, where titles have been often used.

BRIBE SOLICITOR ADMITS HIS GUILT

German Gives Rather Poor Excuse For His Crime

New York, Nov. 3.—Claiming that he has only been in this country a few years and that he did not understand the law or the enormity of his offense, Dagelbert Timendorfer, a German, pleaded guilty to the charge of being the "go-between" for George W. Yeandle.

Yeandle was chosen a juror in the Rosenheimer murder case, and it is alleged he sent Timendorfer to Rosenheimer's lawyer to demand a bribe of $2500, for which sum Yeandle offered to prevent a conviction of the millionaire autoist on trial for the death of Miss Grace Hough.

Timendorfer was remanded for sentence on Nov. 11. Yeandle, who was indicted with Timendorfer relative to the bribery charge, after having been removed as a juror, has pleaded not guilty.

AN AMAZING STATEMENT

Young Doctors Said to Fill Many Graves While Learning Surgery

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—Dr. John B. Deaver, one of the best known surgeons in the country, addressing the members of the Northwestern Medical society, said:

"A medical student fills a graveyard before he becomes a surgeon. I have filled several and don't call myself a surgeon yet. But I have found by long experience that a great many cases of appendicitis and gall stones do not need the use of the knife at all. And many cases of appendicitis need very little or no drugs at the outset. In cases where I do operate I often find that the case is only begun after the operation and I spend nights in woory after many operations.

"Out of 300 cases of appendicitis at one hospital with which I am connected in the last three months there have been but six deaths. This is due, not so much to skilful operating as to care in avoiding the use of the knife."

Rhode Island Man Finds It Out When He Has to Pay Fine

Providence, Nov. 3.—Because a hen is a female fowl and a fowl is a domesticated bird, and a bird is a feathered flying animal, William Dunnagan is to pay a fine and costs amounting to $40.75, Judge Herbert holding that he is guilty of cruelty to animals.

Nine of the hens in the barnyard of Mary A. Wallace in Lakewood died after partaking of tomatoes stuffed with Paris green and set temptingly about a swill pail in the adjoining yard of Dunnagan. He said he had stuffed the tomatoes for the entertainment of skunks and rats.

TWO BROTHERS ARE ARRESTED

Identified by Women as Alleged Highwaymen

TRAP IS SET BY POLICE

Sons of Contractor Asked to Aid In Search For Robbers, to Which They Agree—Alleged Victims Pick Them Out In Broad Daylight—Each Denies Being Guilty of Many Holdups In Boston

Boston, Nov. 3.—The Brighton police are confident that in Henry T. and Walter C. Meegan, aged 22 and 16 years, sons of a Stoneham contractor, they have the two highwaymen who have so terrorized the Brighton section of this city during the past few weeks by holding up and robbing women on the streets.

The young men were identified by two of the young women who were assaulted and robbed while they were in the act of aiding the police in the hunt for the "real" robbers. The strategem which resulted in their arrest was planned by Captain Sullivan of the Brighton station.

Patrolman Mattey, who patrols the beat in the vicinity of the camp where the two Meegans and a number of laborers in the employ of their father live, went to the camp and while in conversation with the Meegan boys asked them to accompany him to Washington street, where he wanted them to pick out several laborers who formerly worked for their father, whom he expected to pass through that street about 5 o'clock.

The young men agreed to assist the patrolman and were on hand. In the meantime Mattey had informed his captain. Miss Mary McDougall, who was held up last Thursday evening, and Miss Catherine Coakley, who was assaulted and robbed Sunday night, were standing on Washington street in company with Inspectors Wills and Muldoon of police headquarters.

It was arranged for the women to inspect the Meegans thoroughly in the broad daylight and then in case of an identification to signify the fact to the officers. If the young women did not identify the men the police were to proceed with them and not let the two Meegans know that they had been suspected at all.

As soon as Miss McDougall's eyes lighted on the Meegan brothers she became almost hysterical and cried out: "There are the two men now."

Immediately the police took hold of the two Meegans and led them to the police station, where they were locked up on the charge of robbery.

It is intended that Miss May Murphy, who was attacked and robbed Friday night and has been in a hospital since that time as a result of the nervous shock, shall be given a chance to try and identify the pair as soon as her physicians will permit.

The two young men denied absolutely that they were guilty of the holdups, saying that some mistake had been made. They could not account satisfactorily for their actions during the periods when the young women were held up.

Since the first robbery occurred in the Aberdeen district of Brighton the police have been of the opinion that some of the employes of Contractor Meegan were responsible. Meegan has been filling a contract there and several of his men, including the two sons, have been sleeping in a shanty during the progress of the work.

Some little time ago a difficulty arose between Meegan and the police as a result of the unsanitary condition prevailing at the shack and the police therefore knew the various laborers who were living there. None of them appeared to answer the description of the two robbers.

Then Patrolman Mattey had his attention attracted by the Meegan boys, and becoming convinced that they were the guilty parties informed his captain of the fact. The trap was then laid which worked to the satisfaction of the police.

TO PUSH SIBLEY CASE

Judge Calls For Immediate Audit of Election Expense Account

Franklin, Pa., Nov. 3.—Unusual excitement was created here when it became known that Judge Criswell had decided to re-open the audit of the election expense account of former Congressman Sibley.

The audit was to have been heard Nov. 14, but on allegations that Sibley was in a critical condition the hearing was postponed until next May. Immediately reports were heard that Sibley was much improved, and with his wife would spend the winter in Florida.

MAKE PORTSMOUTH SOLID FOR THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Portsmouth has always stood loyally by the Republican ticket in state and nation and this is the time when every Republican should see that an even larger vote is polled. There should be a solid vote—no "cutting"—the ticket from top to bottom is one that every Republican can vote for with much satisfaction. The Republican nominee for governor, Robert P. Bass, stands for all the well established Republican principles—he is clean, honest and progressive and will make an ideal governor. Congressman Sulloway is needed in Washington more the next two years than ever, and so on down the list are the names of all good Republicans.

There is no reason why these men should not receive every Republican vote. Why not see that they get them? From now on until election night make it a part of your duty to aid in getting out the vote!

TROUBLES OF THE FISHERMAN

Some of the fisherfolk who of late have gone down to the sea to extract the inhabitants thereof from their native fluid have almost been caught themselves, and a revival of interest in an old time and long felt want is consequent.

Sharks, and their small cousins, the dog fish, are just now responsible for the virtual demoralization of certain branches of the fishing industry along the coast, and the fishermen, who are coming out at the small end of the bargain, are powerless to defend themselves.

A giant man-eating shark jumps casually into a fisherman's dory off the Shoals, and forces her unfortunate occupant to vacate in haste; another strays into a herring net and causes many dollars damage by the threshing of his powerful tail. Every day we read of conflicts with the ravenous creatures in which man is victorious by sometimes narrow margins, to say nothing of financial loss as incurred constantly by the depredations of the ferocious fish.

For the myriad bloodthirsty beasts which greedily strip, the cod and haddock from every hook in sight, there is no profitable disposition, and though their utilization as a fertilizer product has been essayed, it has not been sufficiently successful to solve the problem.

But one remedy, and that one which has been considered, seems within reach. A small government bounty on each head would be an incentive to destroy the owner thereof. As for the practicability of the scheme from a commercial point of view, a nation of geniuses which can invent wings, or imbue machinery with intelligence to order, would have little difficulty in finding a use for shark oil and a panacea for the troubles of the fisherman.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS

The newly established Bureau of Mines has inaugurated a novel "life saving service," and is soon to give lessons in that noble art, with specially constructed cars manned by a corps of miners trained in rescue work and equipped with the latest first aid to the injured appliances. Considering that the number of unfortunates who pass their lives in the bowels of the earth compares very respectably with those engaged in seafaring pursuits in this country at the present day, the wonder is that no such system has been organized long since.

Turn out in force, all ye good Republicans, and give your guests of honor, the next governor and congressman, a royal reception Friday evening. In no other way, except by voting the full ticket can you so well show your loyalty to the party that stands for all that is good.

It will seem good to have the Boston Herald back again with its old time vigor and influence. Under the able editorship of Robert Lincoln O'Brien it is bound to resume its place at the top as one of the country's ablest and best edited journals.

Little Portugal, with hardly more population than the city of New York, ranks fourth in colonial territory among the nations of the world. How much of these possessions she would be able to retain in case of revolt is another story.

We read of additional police officers restraining the over-zealous Hallowe'en merrymakers, and of an infuriated man firing a gun at his nimble tormenters. The time seems imminent when steps must be taken for a safe and sane Hallowe'en.

Three thousand patents have already been issued on airships, and applications for more are coming into the Patent Office at the rate of ninety a day. How many of these contrivances have had practical tryouts?

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

He Will Answer

We are tremendously mistaken if Senator Bass if he does not answer, directly and unequivocally, the questions contained in Candidate Carr's speech at Nashua. As a matter of fact, Senator Bass had already answered those questions before they were asked, and it was his frank and honest declaration that put the matter of vote-buying up to Mr Carr.—Manchester Union.

Human Booze Arsenals

It is difficult for the authorities to unearth the human booze arsenals which haunt our back alleys, dark passageways, and offer to sell pocket rum to a clientele on streets of the city. Yesterday Judge Lummus fined a human bar one hundred dollars. This fellow is one of a hundred, probably more, just such characters who are peddling pocket rum to a line of customers in the city. Evidence in such cases is hard to obtain. These fellows sell a concoction of mechanical alcohol, molasses and cider under the name of whiskey. The stuff is the vilest drink imaginable, and ten times more dangerous than real whiskey. Officer Bunce obtained the conviction of this fellow, who carried fifteen pints on his person, and officers who do this kind of work deserve a word of recognition. It is not the kind of police work that calls for grand stand play or ordinarily gives an officer recognition, but it is deserving work, nevertheless.—Lynn News.

Old Hymns and New

Prof. Adler pronounces "the hymnals of the world today poor stuff" in respects their religious poetry, and Dr. Stuntz at the anniversary celebration of the Old John Street Church criticised the "new airs" that have replaced the "old hymns that have been the battle-cries of Methodism all over he world." "How the early Methodist sang!" said he. "They never sanctioned the cheap and undignified hymnology that churches are being flooded with today."

It is with the deterioration of hymnal music that the complaint mainly lies. The strength of a hymn has always been in the tune. Many even of these "old hymns that have been battle-cries" left much to be desired on the score of poetry. Their vitality lay in their melody or in the vigorous swing of the metre that made the rafters ring.

But why worry about the new tunes while the old remain?—New York World.

A TIMELY TOPIC

—BY—

F. A. COLLINS,
In Christian Herald.

The Care of a City's Trees

In several American cities the general health of the trees is watched no less closely than that of the general population. The priceless value of shade trees, in relieving the long fixed lines of our city streets and bringing a breath of the country to our very doors and windows, has never been so fully realized as during the last few years. In several colleges the study of city forestry is made a special course and students are especially trained to perform this work.

The care with which the work is organized and directed will come as a surprise to the average citizen. In Brooklyn, where the city forestry work is very well organized, a complete census is kept of every tree throughout the city. There are some 35,000 of these trees, and naturally a regular system must be followed in keeping the records. A card index system is employed, in which a separate card is filled out and kept on record for every tree. The locality of the tree, its approximate age and general health are carefully observed and set down. A corps of trained inspectors go about the city visiting and inspecting every tree at least once a year, and, if the health of the tree be precarious at more frequent intervals.

City trees are subject to a greater variety of ills than their country cousins, and the list of ailments for which they must be treated is a long one if a tree, for example, be attacked by any dangerous insect, bug, or growth of any kind, the fact is recorded on its cards at headquarters, and a skilful tree doctor prescribes for it. The prescription is filled at the city's expense, and the medicine is duly administered.

TELLS YOU HOW TO CURE A COLD

Also Ends Severe Grippe Misery in a Few Hours

The most effective and harmless way to cure the Grippe or break a severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, is a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

You will distinctly feel the cold breaking and all grippe symptoms going after the very first dose. It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic aching.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance of bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

After three years research we have conclusively demonstrated that quinine is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

BIBLE QUESTION CLUB

We commence today the publication of a series of suggestive questions on the International Sunday School Lessons. For some time past these weekly questions have been stirring a great deal of national interest. They are published in nearly a thousand newspaper towns and are studied by millions of readers. They are received warmly by the public and enthusiastically endorsed by clergymen of all the churches. Sunday school superintendents, teachers, and adult Bible class scholars use them in every town where they are published, and the general public are much interested.

Contracting for this unique Bible study question service forms the Herald and its readers into a local club of one of the classes of the International Press Bible Question club, and gives the right for all our readers to compete for some very valuable prizes. There are four classes organized each year composed of the newspapers which take up the publication of these questions at four different periods, viz: Those that commence April-June are Class A; July-September are Class B; October-December are Class C, and January-March are Class D. Hence the Herald local club belongs to Class C. There are fifty valuable prizes to be given to our Class: Five solid gold medals, five sterling silver medals, five teachers' Bibles, price $5.50 each, and thirty-five copies of the book "The Heart of Christianity," price $1.50 each. The medals are specially designed and engraved and each will be inscribed with the name of the winner. The conditions of the contest are so simple that any person can comply with them. The contest will not commence until the questions have been published thirteen weeks, in order to give everybody a chance to become familiar with them. One condition is that the questions must be read each week and as the Herald will be necessary for this, you had better send in your subscription on the attached coupon, getting the advantage of our special price for new subscribers.

The Last Supper. Matt. xxvi: 17-30.

Golden Text—This is my body which is given for you, this do in remembrance of me. Luke 22:19.

Verse 17—What was the feast of the passover, and what did it commemorate?

What purpose does the feast of the passover serve as evidence of Bible history?

What is the practical benefit of anniversaries, religious, national and personal?

Verse 18—Has Jesus the right today, as in that day, to invite himself and friends to any man's house? Why?

Was Jesus' "time," for his crucifixion, a necessary or a contingent event, i. e., was the event fixed by God or would he have preferred that the Jews had accepted, and not rejected Jesus?

Verse 19—What are the advantages of making proper preparation, in advance, for religious services, that is of the heart and mind, as well as for the place and the services themselves?

Verse 20—Which time is preferable for the most solemn and impressive service, the morning or the "even," and why?

Would it tend to spirituality, and cultivate a spirit of love and unity, if the children of God were to sit down and eat together, at their experience, or prayer meetings? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club)

Verse 21—Did Jesus know that Judas was going to betray him from passing events, or supernaturally? Give your reasons.

If human actions are contingent, and not necessary, how can God know in advance what they are going to be?

Verses 22-23—Were the loyal disciples actually in doubt, as to whether they were going to betray Jesus, and, whether or not, what was their state of mind?

Are there some acts which we may be absolutely sure we will never commit, or should we always stand in doubt of ourselves? Give your reasons.

Verses 24-25—Could Judas have refrained from betraying Jesus, and have been loyal to him, had he chosen to do so? Give your reasons.

Verses 26-28—Did Jesus' blessing of the bread and the wine change its nature and if not, what effect did it have?

What was the precise thought Jesus meant to convey by the words, "this is my body," and "this is my blood?"

What reasons are there to believe that Jesus meant this sacrament, of the Lord's supper, to be kept up perpetually?

What blessed purposes are served by keeping up the Lord's supper?

Verses 29-30—Will there be eating and drinking in heaven and, whether or not, what did Jesus mean by those words?

CONDUCTOR IN THE TOILS

Charged With Conspiracy to Violate Interstate Commerce Law

Norris Hall, conductor on the Boston and Maine railroad, and James A. Barnes, charged with conspiracy to violate the interstate commerce law under which interstate passenger rates were fixed by the company, were given a hearing by United States Commissioner Hayes in Newburyport, Monday and Tuesday. It is charged that the men combined to allow persons presenting a business card of Barnes to ride without payment of fare.

The complaint was made by James N. George, special agent for the railroad company. It is charged that on August 15 Barnes gave Samuel Goldstein, a clothing salesman of Salem street, Boston, 15 of the cards, and that on August 16 Goldstein went from Boston to Portland on the cars of the company on showing one of the cards to Conductor Hall and without payment of fare.

George Ferris, a motorman employed by the Boston Elevated Railroad, said he received from Mr. George one of Barnes' cards and rode to Old Orchard on the 7.30 train August 20; that he showed the card to Conductor Hall and was allowed to ride free. Conductor Hall is well known locally.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Thinks We Have No Water to Spare

Mr. Editor:—The water is now running from my faucet with much less force than a month ago, and in the country all round us, wells are dry and all other sources of water supply low. Can you inform your readers as to the probable prospect of Beverly brook being inexhaustible? And if not, from what place can Portsmouth obtain water, even at ten times the expense of what New Castle will be paying for our water? This is an interesting question to many. Don't every manufacturing company that is established in Portsmouth use a large amount of water? I voice the thoughts of many that Portsmouth has no water to spare, to neighboring towns. Let New Castle sink artesian wells. Portsmouth water is now very hard and if softer water could be introduced, it would be a great improvement, but where can it be obtained? Please inform your readers. X.

KITTERY LETTER

Kittery, Nov. 3.

Repairs are being made to the Atlantic Shore Line at the navy yard station.

Willard Chick is confined to his home by illness.

A regular meeting of Whipple lodge, Independent Order of Good Templars, was held Wednesday evening in Grange Hall.

Miss Helen Dunbar was a visitor at Kittery Point Wednesday.

Regular monthly meeting this evening of E. G. Parker Post, G. A. R., at Odd Fellows' Hall.

The three masted schooner Sadie Wilcutt is on the way from Port Reading with a cargo of coal for George D. Boulter.

Mrs. Myrtle Snell has taken employment in a Portsmouth newspaper office.

Dense smoke from the oil burning furnaces of the torpedo destroyers Paulding and Drayton bathed the town Thursday.

The annual donation was given to Rev. E. H. Macy, pastor of the Second Christian church, on Wednesday evening.

The "Silent Dozen" met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nellie Jackson on Rogers road.

Kittery has a leaning tower—a somewhat less imposing structure than its famous Italian prototype it is true, but a leaning tower nevertheless. A chimney on the half-burned building in the rear of the Orman House inclines at an alarming angle and is seemingly in danger of toppling momentarily.

William Fife of Greenland is moving his family into the house on Otis avenue which he recently purchased from Newell K. Howe.

William Frost has moved his family from Government street to Otis avenue. The tenement vacated by the Frosts will be taken by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lutts.

Lieut. Oliver P. Remick, U. S. R. C. S., retired, of Remick's Corner, is in Portland.

Mrs. Lydia Locke of Locke's Cove is confined to her home by illness.

The Ladies' Social circle of the Second Christian church hold a food and apron sale in the vestry of the church tomorrow (Friday) afternoon.

Miss Susie Hubbard of the Intervene has been enjoying a two days' vacation from her duties in Portsmouth.

George Philbrick of Manson avenue is reported as being very ill.

Mrs. Harvey Grant entertained the "Noisy Dozen" on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Pettigrew are moving from Kittery Depot to the house on Love Lane vacated this week by Adam Lutts and family.

A regular business meeting of the Christian Endeavor will be held at the home of the vice president, Mervin G. Ford, at Locke's Cove, this evening. A literary program will be observed.

Miss Ruth C. Philbrick, daughter of Mrs. Marion Philbrick, and Elmer R. Pruett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pruett of Kittery Point, were united in marriage by Rev. E. H. Macy at the pastor's residence on Wednesday evening. Arthur Seaward was best man, while Miss Frances Gilson stood up with the bride. After a wedding trip they will reside at Kittery Point. The couple are among the town's most popular young people, and a host of friends wish them all happiness and prosperity.

Oren Quimby and Leon Webber have gone to Florida where they expect to pass the winter.

Traip Academy and York High School played a hot nothing to nothing game of football on Kittery field Wednesday afternoon. The local boys are beginning to show what what they are made of. NEW CASTLE NEWS

New Castle, Nov. 3.

The days are growing colder, the fragrance and bloom have forsaken the flowers. This is the end of the year of vernal life. Autumn is rapidly slipping away and we cannot hold it. We have seen it and we rejoice in it for with its advent has come the great aggregate of agriculture production. This we have reason to believe has equalled anticipation. But without regard to the material aspect of the season that is rapidly closing, there is the artistic, the spiritual joy in the chance which has daily been making wider our eyes under the compulsion of celestial for us making one of the most marvelous autumns that ever has gone on the weather file.

The air is fragrant with odors of boiling fruits ,spices and that deliciously pungent smell of piccalilli, showing that some of our New Castle housewives are yet deeply in the throes of the preserving kettle. Nowhere seemingly does the New England appetite for such condiments rejoice more in this good old fashioned "putting up" season than do the housewives in New Castle who toil with such ardor unswerving, to put the whole world up in cans and where everything is "canned" but themselves.

Mrs. Bernice Spear of Boston is passing her annual vacation with her sister.

Miss Florence Patterson, who has been the guest of Miss Marion Tarlton, has returned to her home in Portsmouth.

The harvest supper under the capable management of the King's Daughters Monday evening could hardly be surpassed for quality and abundance, and was partaken of by a large number of patrons beside the large committee in charge. At the conclusion of the supper a fascinating entertainment was enjoyed.

Every feature of the program was finely presented and the participants certainly did themselves much credit.

Mrs. Dolly Haywood and her son Le Roi left today for Middlebury, Mass., to pass the frigid term.

Miss Ella Becher is restricted to her home by illness.

"Into each life some rain must fall." It is hoped that New Castleites will get some good old sod soakers until the wells and cisterns are all filled, as the water question is getting to be quite a serious problem in the island town.

Mrs. Sara Simpson left today to pass a two weeks sojourn in Milbury, Mass.

Mr. Conrad Push has returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives in New York. While there he saw Jack Wendell in the fairy drama of "The Blue Bird."

Hale, Gallinger, Burnham and Sulloway were a strong team for this yard. Hale is defeated. Shall we lose any more?

TEACHINGS WILL BE NON-SECTARIAN

Long Island Town to Have a "Church of All Nations"

New York, Nov. 3.—Much interest has been manifested in the "Church of All Nations" to be started next Sunday in Jamaica. It is the intention of those actively interested to establish a place of worship for persons irrespective of nationality, color or creed, and to have teachings strictly non-sectarian. The result of the first meeting Sunday will be watched with great interest.

The new church will be established in a large store at Church and South streets, and will have a seating capacity of two hundred. Those who have canvassed the district to obtain opinions as to the success of the institution believe that the store will be crowded Sunday. Many prominent Jamaica residents are behind the movement.

WAS ONCE TRIED AS SLAYER OF BROOKS

Mrs. Wildrick Goes to Prison For Working "Badger Game"

New York, Nov. 3.—When Florence B. Wildrick, who attained much notoriety a few years ago by being acquitted of the murder of Walter Brooks in a local hotel, was sentenced to serve from seven to fourteen years in state prison for extortion, she seemed to take the whole proceeding as a joke. She will be sent to Auburn prison.

She smiled cheerfully while Judge Crain was pronouncing sentence and when led from the courtroom she appeared happier than at any time since her arrest several weeks ago.

It was different with Edward H. Brooks, convicted along with Mrs. Wildrick. He was pale and hung his head as the judge read the sentences. On the way to the Tombs, to await transportation to Sing Sing prison, he was visibly affected.

TO INCREASE STOCK OF BOSTON AND MAINE

Special Meeting Held at Lawrence and Future Meeting Will Be Held in Boston.

At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Boston and Maine railroad held in the board of trade rooms at Lawrence Wednesday it was voted to hold the annual meeting on the second Wednesday of October in each year at Boston instead of at Lawrence, where all meetings have been held since the road was built.

Pres. Charles S. Mellen presided at the meeting. It was voted to increase the capital stock of the corporation by the issue of 106,637 new shares of its common stock for the purpose of making additions to the equipment of the company, for making permanent improvements to the road and for abolishing grade crossings, each subscriber to receive one share at $110 and the remainder to be sold to non-subscribers according to law.

It was also voted to amend article 3 of the bylaws authorizing the president or vice president in charge of the financial department and the treasurer to sign the certificates and bonds of stock of the corporation. Clerk Earl A. Ryder was certified to issue all bonds.

There were 162,234 shares represented. The total number of shares outstanding is 319,911.

UNIVERSALIST BAZAAR WAS A SUCCESS

OPENING NIGHT DREW A BIG CROWD AND A FINE SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN.

The annual bazaar of the Universalist church was held on Wednesday evening and will be continued this evening at Freeman's hall annex, and it was in every way a great success. There was a big attendance and everything went off smoothly while the sales at the different booths were large.

The bazaar opened with a supper served from 5 to 7.30 and there were over a hundred served, the menu consisting of

Lobster Salad
Rolls Olives
Pickles
Fancy Pies.

During the evening a string quartette consisting of Messrs G. Whittier, C. B. Hoyt, W. J. Kershaw and F. A. Robbins gave a concert, and an excellent entertainment was given in the form of a one-act play by three young ladies, and they were very good. The title of the play was "No Man Wanted," and the characters were:

Isabelle Granger...Miss Effie Garland
Eleanor Raleigh....Miss Alice White
Prymella.....Miss May Rand

There were several booths and all were handsomely decorated; in fact, were exceedingly pretty.

There was a grocery store and a shooting gallery conducted by the men of the parish, all taking a turn at tending shop.

Bag and handkerchief table, which was in charge of Mrs. F. E. H. Marden and Mrs. Howard Laskey.

The fancy table was in charge of Mrs. Clarence H. Paul and Mrs. Geo Dixon.

The apron table, where all kinds of these useful articles could be purchased, was in charge of Mrs. Porter Hanson and Mrs. Walter Laskey.

A cake table, of home-made cakes, etc., was presided over by Mrs. Albert Garland and Mrs. Joy.

The candy table had a fine assortment of home-made candies, and they were eagerly sought for, and Mrs. Freeman R. Garrett and Mrs. Richard I. Walden were in charge here.

The doll booth, where were exhibited the handsome dolls that were to be given to the most enterprizing of the little girls, were looked after by Mrs. George C. Humphreys and Mrs. Joseph Card.

The flower table was a particularly well decorated table, the handiwork of Mr. Arthur E. Richardson, and this was looked after by the young ladies of the Sunday School, with Miss Nellie Whitcomb chairman, and Miss Flora Dimick.

During the evening there was a sale of ice cream and cake and the Ushers' club of the church had charge of this, with Hayden Paul as chairman.

The entire affair is under the direction of the Ladies' Social Circle, connected with the church, of which Mrs. George D. Whittier is the chairman and Mrs. G. C. Humphreys secretary and treasurer.

The affair will be continued this evening and will open with a chicken salad supper.

CUBANS BLEW UP THE MAINE

Claim Made By Ex-Army Officer Brady, But Denied By the Navy Department

Kansas City, Nov. 2—Lecturing at St. George's church last night Col. Jasper Ewing Brady, who said he was one of the four officers sent by the government to investigate the destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, Feb. 14, 1898, declared the mine which destroyed the battleship was placed by the Cubans, in order to bring about war with Spain and the deliverance of Cuba. He further asserted that the information had been sent to the President and the secretary of war.

"When I went to investigate the disaster with three other U. S. officers," Col. Brady said, "there were three theories concerning the origin of the disaster—that the explosion was caused from the outside by agents of Spain, that it was caused from the inside and that the Maine was anchored over a mine prepared by the Cubans. We are able to inform the President and the secretary of war that the last theory was the most consistent with the facts. This lead to the conclusion that the Maine was blown up by the Cubans in order to bring on war with Spain and the deliverance of Cuba."

Continuing, he said: "Now I will tell you for the first time the name of the man who blew up the Maine. He is, or was, Jose Zavaldo. He was an electrician at Morro Castle. It was he who threw the switch which set off the powerful mine that destroyed the ship and sent 207 lives into eternity in a flash. Zavaldo was afterward shot by order of Gen Blanco. We even got a piece of the cable that led from the mine to the room in Morro Castle. That piece of cable is now in the navy department at Washington."

Col. Brady resigned from the army in 1899. Asked this morning why the report given to the President and the secretary of war had not been made public, he said: "Well, I'm sure I don't know." Col. Brady is a brother of Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady, the author, who is pastor of St. George's church, where the lecture was delivered.

BRANDED AS UNTRUE

Rear Admiral Wainwright Puts No Stock in Statements of Brady—No Army Board Investigated.

Washington, Nov. 2—Jasper Ewing Brady was formerly attached to the signal corps of the U. S. army, and held the rank of captain. He resigned in 1899.

Gen. James Allen, chief of the signal corps, said Brady was a telegraph operator and had written a number of magazine articles. He did not know, however, that Brady had been on any board charged with the investigation of the Maine.

Rear Admiral Wainwright, who was executive officer on the Maine at the time the vessel was blown up said today that there had been no military board of army officers appointed to investigate the disaster. The story told by Brady was one of the theories advanced at the time the naval board of inquiry, of which Rear Admiral Wainwright was a member, investigated the matter. It was discredited then and Rear Admiral Wainwright said today he placed no stock in it now.

He branded as untrue Brady's statement that a piece of the cable that led from the mine to a room in Morro Castle is now in the navy department. If there had been any such cable, he declared, it would have been discovered by the divers who examined the hull after the explosion.

Jasper Ewing Brady was born in Pennsylvania 45 years ago, and was appointed an officer in the regular army from the ranks, having risen from private to sergeant major of the 10th U. S. infantry between Sept. 10 1888, and Aug. 1, 1891. He was appointed second lieutenant in the 19th U. S. infantry July 31, 1891, and first lieutenant April 26, 1898.

He was made a captain in the signal corps in the volunteer service May 20, 1898, being honorably discharged from the volunteers March 2, 1899. He resigned Sept. 30, 1899, from the army, and resided for some time in Buffalo. He was press censor at Tampa early in the Spanish war, and later was stationed at Santiago.

Sept. 30, 1898, he was ordered to construct an overland telegraph line from Guantanamo via Santiago de Cuba to Manzanillo, Cuba, 325 miles in length.

In October, 1902, Mr. Brady, then lieutenant colonel of the 23d regt New York state national guard, went to California, ill with consumption contracted in war game maneuvers. He is the author of "Tales of the Telegraph."

MACKEREL SEASON A FAILURE

Most Dismal in the History of the Fishing Industry.

"The most dismal failure in the history of the industry," ins the general verdict of the Gloucester, Mass., fishermen on the salt mackerel fishery for 1910, which is ending its season.

With only two or three vessels yet to come into port, the total catch of salt mackerel for the season has been only 3165 bbls., compared with 16,206 bbls. in 1909 and 20,426 bbls. in 1908, both of which were disappointing, as compared with a total of 300,000 bbls., landed within a period of eight months a few years ago.

This year the catch of fresh mackerel has been almost as much of a disappointment as the small catch of the salted product.

Other branches of the fisheries have been successful, and even considering the failure of the mackerel catch the ledgers of the vessel owners are expected to show a substantial balance on the right side when the books are closed.

RECORD GERMAN NAVAL BUDGET

Estimates Total $115,000,000—Growth of Austrian Fleet Officially Recognized.

Berlin newspapers state that the forthcoming German naval estimates will exceed the previous ones by $5,000,000, making a record total of more than $115,000,000. A significant item is a provision for a naval attache at Vienna, where Germany hitherto has had none. The appointment of such an attache shows recognition of the importance to Germany of the growth of the Austrian fleet.

Rain or no rain the rally on Friday evening will be a rouser. ch

ONCE IN TWO YEARS ENOUGH

FOR NATIONAL RIFLE MATCHES. THE OPINION OF MANY EXPERTS.

There is considerable quiet talk as to the advisability of making the national rifle matches a biennial affair instead of holding them yearly. That they have been a tremendous factor in arousing interest in shooting throughout all branches of the military service and the National Guard is not denied. Since they were instituted by an act of congress appropriating money for the national trophy, medals and prizes, congress has increased the appropriation for the National Guards from one to two million dollars annually, with the understanding that $500,000 of this appropriation was to be expended in rifle practice. Out of this money the expenses of the teams at the national match are paid. In many casts these expenses constitute a very formidable drain on the state's alotment. Especially is this the case with the smaller states and territories. These usually have long trips involving.

Shortage of Regular Army Officers and considerable pay for the members of the team while on duty coming and going. An officer in the Arizona National Guard receives the same as an officer of similar rank in the New York National Guard while on duty so that the team expenses for the smaller states are as high as those for the larger states, although the amount of money received from the national government is very much less.

The result has been that where a small state sends a team to the tournament each year it finds itself with little left for rifle practice at home. These states and territories are anxious to apply a certain amount of the federal appropriation to the construction and equipment of state ranges and for rifle practice among the members of the Guard at home. It is also felt that if the matches were held every two years there would be greater novelty and more interest taken in them. The army has adopted a two-year system instead of annual matches partly on account of the fact that the army maneuvers and individual camps of instructions for the national matches and attendance there on consume considerable time on the part of the members of the teams, and practically eliminates them from participation in the maneuver. For the last two years the army has supplied the officers and men for the Camp Perry range during the National Rifle association matches as well as during the national matches. As this involves the services of more than one hundred officers and over one thousand experienced enlisted men, it seriously handicaps the training of the National Guardsmen by the regular officers during the maneuver years. It also accentuates the serious

Heavy Transportation Charges

If, however, the national matches required the services of twice as many officers and enlistment from the regular army, to conduct them, their value as a military feature to the country would be well worth the expenditure.

By next year the government of the United States will possess a rifle range of sufficient size and equipment to take care of the national matches. It is constructing a new range near Sparta, Wisconsin, in connection with the artillery range there, and on this range the national matches can be accommodated. It is doubtful, however, whether the National Rifle association matches could be shot there, as there will probably be only one bank of targets, fifty in number, so that only one stage of one match could be shot at a time. At Camp Perry, with its equipment of more than two hundred targets, it is possible to shoot several matches simultaneously. The National Guard is not partial to the idea of going to Sparta, which is not accessible to civilization. New York expects to have its range completed by 1912, and if it invites the tournament it will be a formidable bidder.

The demand for houses has not ceased and some of the agents report that if they had twenty houses they could let them. What this city needs is some flats or one or two apartment houses.

In the big navy yard fights now on, does any man in Portsmouth, republican or democrat, think it would be for Portsmouth's interest to defeat Hon. Cyrus A. Sulloway for Congress and put in his place a new and inexperienced man to serve only one term? Go to the rally on Friday evening and hear what Congressman Hinds of Maine says about it. ch

There were nine lodgers and one drunk on the police blotter last night. The drunk was a woman, who was captured by Officer Shannon and she was armed with a baseball bat looking for a man whom she was going to vent her spite upon. The large number of lodgers is the result of the passing through here of the laborers to the logging camps.

Here is one case of it:

Thomas Entwistle, city marshal, 286 Cabot street, Portsmouth, N H., says: "I think as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did years ago when I first used them. At that time I was in a bad way as a result of kidney trouble, and though I had repeatedly tried remedies to get relief, my efforts had been in vain When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention, I procured a supply at Philbrick's Drug store and began their use as directed. In a short time I was rid of kidney troube and felt better in every way. I occasionally have a slight pain in my back, but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills give me prompt relief."

A TABLET TO THE POLLY

FAMOUS OLD SCHOONER MARKED BY THE DAUGHTER OF 1812.

New York, Nov. 2—Beating her way up the Hudson river against a stiff tide and a buffeting wind, yesterday, a trim little two-masted schooner valiantly nosed her way through the water until she reached a point opposite the foot of 50th street. Here she poked her bow into the face of the wind, flapped her sails like a gull about to alight, and tied up to a pier.

As soon as she had come to a stop a scene of activity became apparent on her decks. Men ran to and fro, carrying buckets of water and blocks of holystone. The pieces of brasswork at her railings and at the entrance to the tiny cabin were burnished until they reflected the rays of the early sun in blinding fashion. In a few minutes her sails were furled, her decks made to gleam with cleanliness and her outer works received a thorough scrubbing.

She was now indeed a picture to delight a sailor's eye. To add a touch of coquetry myriad flags and bits of bunting were run to her masthead and along her gunwales. Despite these decorations, there was a certain aspect of grimness of the fighter about the little boat.

This small schooner which slipped so quietly beneath the frowning walls of the Palisades was formerly a famous ship of war. Only 60 feet in length from the curve of her graceful stern to the stubby nose of her belligerent bow, the Polly was a great factor in the war of 1812. Her decks once ran with the blood of martyrs, and eleven British ships were forced to lower their colors to the little fighting Yankee.

The Polly is said to be the oldest vessel afloat of American registry, and before the first gun had been fired in the war of 1812, she pointed out to sea, where she made herself a terror to all British shipping. After the close of the war the Polly doffed her privateer garb for the more peaceful accoutrements of a merchantman, and as such made six trips around Cape Horn, the first journey in 1849. She also circled the globe on two occasions.

The Polly is now commanded by Capt. J. H. Weldon, and is used in the coastwise trade, running to various ports, with Boston as her home port. Although she was built in 1805, the boat is still as stanch and seaworthy as when she first took the water.

After all the years that have passed since the stirring days of 1812, the Polly will finally receive her reward this afternoon, when a bronze tablet, commemorating her part in the war, will be presented to her.

This tablet is to be presented by the national society of United States Daughters of the War of 1812. Mrs. William G. Slade, president of the society, will make the presentation speech.

The tablet is to be fitted into the woodwork in the front of the Polly's cabin, to be worn hereafter as a proud testimonial of the little craft's deeds of valiance in days gone by. This inscription, worked in bas-relief can be read on the tablet of bronze:

POLLY
Schooner Built in 1805.
Privateer in the War of 1812.
Captured 11 Prizes.

THIS TABLET
Placed Nov. 1, 1910, by the National Society of the United States Daughters of 1812.
State of New York.

THEATRICAL TOPICS

Keith's Theatre.

Charlotte Hunt, the Boston stock actress who has been making such a hit at B. F. Keith's theatre during the week, will appear Monday in something that will prove a decided novelty in vaudeville. It is a one act comedy drama written by Miss Hunt, and in which she is the only person appearing. The action takes place in a ladie's boudoir, beautifully furnished, and during the piece a delightful little love story, with a jealous woman as the principal figure, is unfolded, and at the same time Miss Hunt does a charming little bit of comedy in showing Milady dressing for the street. On this bill will be one of the greatest European novelties ever imported to this country, called "The Four Uessems," a big troupe of acrobats and balancers who do the most astonishing feats. Howard and North, those perennial favorites, are also on the bill and will present the greatest of all their comedies, "Those Were the Happy Days." Another extraordinary feature from broad will be Vilmos Westony, the pianist of international reputation, a protege of the late Richard Wagner, who besides a great artist has caught the vaudeville idea and has a program that has been making a tremendous hit ever since he arrived in this country. Still another foreign company is that of Percy Warm, who will appear in a dramatic sketch based on one of W. W. Jacobs' famous sea stories, called "The Boatswain's Mate." Other features will be Gordon and Marx, German comedians, and the Royal Colibris, a troupe of midgets.

A BIG RALLY IS PROMISED

AN OLD-TIME REPUBLICAN MEETING PLANNED WITH EXCELLENT SPEAKERS.

The Republicans are making arrangements for one of the biggest rallies ever held in this city at Music Hall Friday evening. Already a crowd that will test the capacity of the house is assured, and it is expected to be a real old-fashioned Republican meeting, with the best speakers and good music.

The rally will not only be for this city, but for this end of Rockingham county, and delegates are expected from all of the surrounding towns, and special cars will be run on some of the lines.

The rally will be preceded by a reception to the speakers at the Hotel Rockingham, by the vice presidents and secretaries of the meeting, and a short parade in which the speakers will be escorted to Music Hall.

The meeting at the hall will be called to order by Col. J. H. Bartlett, chairman of the Republican City committee, and he will introduce Hon. Wallace Hackett, who will preside.

The speakers who are scheduled are Hon Robert P. Bass, candidate for governor; Hon. Cyrus A. Sulloway, candidate for Congress from this district; Hon. Asher Ilinds, congressman elect from Maine, and Hon. Roscrane W. Pillsbury of Manchester.

THE FRENCH CABINET RESIGNED

Upset Came as a Result of Methods Taken to Suppress Strike

Paris, Nov. 2—Premier Briand today tendered the resignation of the Cabinet to President Falliores. The country now faces a ministrial crisis as a result of the Socialistic attack upon the government following the great railroad strike. Briand, who is a Socialist, was forced to abandon office by the assaults of the Socialists who declared that he had betrayed them. The present cabinet was formed July 24, 1909.

The Socialists, who rejoiced when Briand was chosen Premier, were jubilant today. For his work in crushing disorder during the recent strike he had been branded a traitor to the party tenets. The interpellations of the Socialists, and the subsequent disorder in the Chamber of Deputies last week, were the final act that caused the Premier's action today.

The cabinet which retired today was made up as follows:

Premier and Minister of Interior and Public Worship, Aristide Briand; war, General Brun; marine, Admiral de la Payrere; justice, M. Barthou; foreign affairs, M. Pichon; finance, Georges Cochery; education, M. Doumergue; public posts and telegraphs, M. Millerand; commerce, Jean Dupuy; agriculture, M. Ruau; colonies M. Trouillot; labor, M. Viviana.

The cabinet was formed by Briand after a great deal of difficulty, and was hailed at that time as "the great Socialist cabinet." Briand was the pivot on which the whole drama, ending in the cabinet's fall, turned. Smarting under the repeated attacks of M. Jaures, leader of the Socialists, and others, he leaped to his feet during a meeting of the deputies and, defending the cabinet's suppression of the strike as a "revolutionary outbreak," exclaimed:

"If the actual law has been insufficient we would have not have hesitated to resort even to illegality for the purpose of preserving the fatherland."

A tremendous uproar followed his declaration and the Socialist tried to fight his way to the tribune to attack Briand. He was freely denounced for "throwing the military resources of the country to the service of capital."

Briand has been asked to form a new ministry, and it is supposed that it will be made up of men of his own ideas.

GOOD-BY.

We say it for an hour or for years;
We say it smiling, say it choked with tears;
We say it coldly, say it with a kiss;
And yet we have no other word than this—
"Good by."

We have no dearer word for our heart's friend,
For him who journeys to the world's far end,
And scars our soul with going; thus we say,
As unto him who steps but o'er the way—
"Good-By."

Alike to those we love and those we hate,
We say no more in parting. At life's gate
To him who passes out beyond earth's sight,
We cry, as to the wanderer for a night—
"Good-By."
—Exchange.

For a mild easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Regulets is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 2 cents a bix. Ask your druggist for them.

NAVY YARD

Football and Tug of War

The Portsmouth football team is anxious to meet the navy team of the North Carolina on the field before cold weather. The Young Emmetts are also looking for a pull with the jackies on the tug of war boards.

To Be Held Later

The examination for messengers for the yard has been postponed until Nov. 19.

Nearly Got in Trouble

While on her way up the bay through the fog, the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, narrowly escaped a collision with the United States battleship North Dakota, outward bound, near the statue of Liberty. The sirens of both ships bellowed a hoarse warning and both steamers reversed engines full speed astern. The North Dakota sheered off just in time, and both ships passed within fifty feet of each other.

Hannibal Comes With Coal

The U. S. S. Hannibal, Capt. V. W. Keene, master, arrived this noon with a cargo of coal for the yard. Minor repairs will be made on the ship while at this, her home port.

Talking on the Reorganization

The conference of yard commandants now being held at Washington is said to be in the interests of navy yard reorganization and the work at the several stations.

To Qualify for Promotion

Lieut. Col. George Barrett, U. S. M. C., has qualified for promotion to succeed Col. P. St. C. Murphy, who retired Oct. 10. Major Charles G. Long has been ordered home from Honolulu, and Capt. Henry W. Carpenter from the Philippines, to take the examinations for promotion to the vacancies created. The other officers designated to take the examinations for promotion are Lieut. Fred Kensel and 2d Lieut. F. H. Drees.

Going to Give Away Turkeys

The crew of the workmen's boat Yeast Cake were treated to a genuine surprise today, when the skipper announced that a carload of turkeys were on the way and as soon as it arrived the American gallinaceous birds will be distributed to one and all as a Thanksgiving gift from the captain. The announcement was met with cheers for the gallant master by everybody but one of the quartermasters, who appealed to the captain to order warming pans and earlaps instead of turkeys.

Going Up for Navy Chaplain

Rev. Lyman A. Hale, of Massachusetts, is authorized to appear before a board of chaplains on Nov. 10 at Washington, D. C., to consider his fitness for appointment as a chaplain in the navy. The board consists of Chaplains Wright, Patrick and Bayard.

Joins the Local Branch

At the last meeting of Piscataqua Harbor, No. 83, of Masters, Mates and Pilots, held in this city, Chief Boatswain Karl Rundquist, commanding the U. S. S. Patapsco, was admitted to membership.

To Put in Cage Mast

It is understood that one of the cage masts will be installed on the cruiser North Carolina while the ship is at the yard.

Movements of Navy Vessels

Arrived—Triton at Washington; Grayling, Bonita, Narwhal, Salmon, Snapper, Stingray, Tarpon, Tarantula, Viper, Castine, Severn and Cuttlefish at Solomon island; Caesar at Norfolk; Preston at New York city.

Sailed—Vicksburg, from Acapulco for Pichilinque; Montana, from Portsmouth, N. H., for Hampton Roads; Paulding from Portsmouth, N. H., for cruise; North Dakota, from Tompkinsville; Georgia, Louisiana, Kansas, New Hampshire, South Carolina, from Norfolk; Delaware, from Hampton Roads, and Minnesota, Mississippi and Vermont, from Philadelphia for rendezvous of fleet.

The Prairie has been ordered to Charleston, S. C., for repairs.

BETHLEHEM HOUSE BURNED

Fifth White Mountain Hotel Destroyed in Few Years

Fire Wednesday destroyed the Bethlehem House, famous as a summer hotel for more than 35 years, with a loss of upward of $10,000. The building has been unoccupied, with the exception of a watchman, for more than a month, and it is believed that rats and matches were responsible for the fire.

Littleton sent a fire company to the fire by automobile to aid the Bethlehem department, but they were unable to save the structure or any of its contents. Chief Walter Clark of the local department had his hands and feet badly burned while on a tin roof, almost directly over the hottest part of the blaze. The building was only partially insured.

The Bethlehem House was erected in 1874, and was owned by Col. John Q. A. Bruce of Wilton. The past summer it was run by J. F. Reynolds, proprietor of abig hostelry at Pinehurst, N. C. The Bethlehem House is the fourth or fifth summer hotel in the White Mountains to be destroyed by fire within the past few years.

THE WONDERER

I wonder if the cow man who captured the $278 here is still doing business at the same old stand?

I wonder if the Massachusetts Contracting company has a life job at Henderson's Point?

I wonder if the winners in the P. A. C. pool tournament won't eat heartily tonight at the expense of the losers?

I wonder how Clarence Tilley is making out on his campaign for the health board?

I wonder when that telephone communication to the Isles of Shoals will be in working order?

I wonder what the city government will do with the lighting contract which comes before them next month?

I wonder why a Ward 1 politician is going to retire from the game for life?

I wonder if the old municipal building upper floors will be used by the army and navy men jointly for club quarters?

I wonder if George Reed, the champion wood chopper of this district, has received any challenges since he was presented with that axe by the Green Street Athletic club?

I wonder if some of the wives of navy officers are not doing a fine stunt on the fifty mile hike?

I wonder if the board of trade is still chasing up that Lynn shoe firm who wants a location in this section?

I wonder where the Kildare Athletic club will have winter quarters?

I wonder why rooms are so scarce at present outside of the hotels?

I wonder why Ezra Towle don't dig out the old campaign flag and put it to the breeze?

I wonder who is the champion smelt fisherman along the docks?

I wonder if it has ever been settled satisfactorily who is the oldest member of the fire department?

I wonder when that new water pipe line will put in on Myrtle avenue?

I wonder if a young Miss from Greenland did not surprise her friends some when she announced that Mrs. was now attached to her name?

I wonder how they are getting along on the Piscataqua river dam?

I wonder who will be the next mayor at Shag Rock?

I wonder where are all the husking parties this year?

I wonder if political literature won't flood the city on Tuesday next?

I wonder why the police department should be run cheaper than any other department of the city.

I wonder when the board of public works will put a few new brick in some of the sidewalks of the city?

TO ENLARGE THE RENDERING PLANT

The contract will be let within the next few days for the construction of a 40 by 60 foot extension on the plant of the Eastern Rendering company, on the line of the Portsmouth and Dover railroad, above Freeman's Point.

Additional business and an increase in the working force will follow the completion of this annex. Hugh G. Robinson manager of the plant, has been in New York on business connected, it is understood, with its proposed enlargement.

LOCAL DASHES

The turkey is getting good feed just now.

Work on repairing the Appledore docks appears to have been held up for further orders.

The poles of the electric street railway on Islington street are changing in color but not from paint.

James Egan of Boston has begun to install an artesian well at the farm of Joseph O. Shaw on the Greenland road.

A class in mechanical engineering has been inaugurated among the older boys of the Young Men's Christian association. Herman R. Hunt, an engineer at the navy yard, formerly an instructor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is the teacher. The class will meet every Tuesday night for twenty-four weeks.

"Now, Tommy," said the teacher in her most persuasive tone, "tell us when is the harvest season."

"From November to March," said Tommy with great promptness.

"Why, Tommy, I am surprised that you should name such barren months. Who told you they were the harvest season?"

"Pa. He's a plumber."—Chicago Daily News.

The Packard Method

In building each Packard Piano a high class workman takes all the time he has to have to do the work right. After the work is done, time must be consumed in allowing the parts to settle, and then it is gone over again. This is repeated until each detail has been brought into a harmonious whole.

Ample time is allowed for every branch of the work, nothing is rushed or crowded, and no chances taken. It takes an average of six to eight months to build a Packard Piano.

Appreciate the Packard Method. Then, if never before, you will realize that the Packard is all we claim for it.

Cash or Easy Terms.

Your old piano taken as part payment.

A Bank Account Simplifies Things

When system and order comes into a man's routine of life they "ease the pressure" in a hundred ways—and make the management of affairs simple and pleasant, instead of burdensome and vexatious. But "system" and "order" are strangers to the man who does not have a bank account.
